REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: With regards to claims 1-7, the prior art of record does not disclose or fairly teach the first ends of the first and second circuit lines connected to an output port, the output port being spaced away from an edge of the first printed circuit board; a first input pod connected to the first circuit line second end, the first input port being spaced away from the edge of the first printed circuit board; a second input pod connected to the second circuit line second end, the second input pod being spaced away from the edge of the first printed circuit board and a plurality of non-metallized voids located in the second metallized area above the first and second circuit lines, the non-metallized voids adapted to change the amplitude unbalance of the combiner. With regards to claims 8-17, the prior art of record does not disclose or fairly teach a first circuit line located on the top surface and having one end connected to a first input port defined by a first plated through hole and another end connected to an output port defined by a second plated through hole; a second circuit line located on the top surface and having one end connected to a second input port defined by a third plated through hole and another end connected to the output port; a first set of non-metallized voids located in the second metallized area juxtaposed to the first circuit line; a second set of non-metallized voids located in the second metallized area juxtaposed to the second circuit line, the voids adapted to change an electrical characteristic of the combiner. With regard claims 18-20, the prior art of record does not disclose or fairly teach monitoring the amplitude unbalance of the combiner

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure: Ralph US Patent 6,819,202.
